

JOUKOWSKY INSTITUTE FOR ARCHAEOLOGY AND THE ANCIENT WORLD FAMILY WEEKEND 2011 OCTOBER 15, 2011

Jouxowsky Institute
Morning Tour:
Archaeology in Action

11:00 AM - 11:45 AM

Come visit the Jouxowsky Institute for Archaeology and the Ancient World in Rhode Island Hall. The Institute's Director, Professor Sue Alcock, will be on hand to tour you through the recently renovated building, showing and discussing artifacts from sites such as Petra, and talking about our current fieldwork in the Caribbean, Egypt, Jordan, and Rhode Island among other places.

*Rhode Island Hall
60 George Street
(at Prospect Street)*

Archaeology of College Hill Community Archaeology Day

12:30 PM - 3:00 PM

Come watch Brown undergraduates digging (yes, really digging) at the John Brown House, located at the corner of Power and Benefit Street. Stop by any time between 12:30 and 3:00.

The John Brown House is also the starting point for two walking tours organized by the Rhode Island Historical Society: "Historic College Hill" at 1:00 and "Lovecraft's Providence: A Literary Tour" at 1:30. More information on the tours is on the RIHS website (rihs.org).

John Brown House, 52 Power Street